

TERMS OF REFERENCE

International Trustee, Advisor and Ambassador

TRUSTEE:

Religions for Peace (RfP) International Trustees (Trustees) are a select group of eminent international leaders who offer annual financial contribution to RfP and provide critical liaison with a wide range of private and public entities to mobilize financial resources for RfP.

Trustees are invited to RfP World Council and other governance meetings and are provided with opportunities to participate in RfP's programs and projects. Trustees contribute at a wide range with the minimum of $25,000 annually.

ADVISOR:

RfP International Advisors (Advisors) are internationally recognized scholars, experts and/or practitioners who make available special competencies relevant to the mission of RfP.

Advisors are invited to provide organizational policy and issue-based guidance to the Secretary General.

AMBASSADOR:

RfP International Goodwill Ambassadors (Ambassadors) are internationally known celebrities and personalities in diverse fields such as culture, entertainment, business or political, who liaison with important publics to raise the global profile of RfP.

Ambassadors serve as advocates and communicators with media to systematically raise RfP global profile.

CRITERIA:

1. Each must sign on to the values, vision, mission and principles of RfP.
2. Each has the abilities and competencies essential to the development of the mission of RfP.
3. Each group manifests the diversity inherent to the RfP mission (religious, gender, and geography).

Should you need any further information, please contact Rev. Kyoichi Sugino, Deputy Secretary General.